EZProcessPro.com

In today's world of big box stores and easy internet access, it is imperative that you have the same tools they do in order to compete. Until recently there was not an affordable solution available to the typical business owner that would provide them with everything they need in one seamlessly integrated solution at a price they could afford. NOW THERE IS! We introduce EZ Process Pro's Fused Commerce Solution

FUSED COMMERCE PLATFORM

Automation between system, website, & kiosk

Easy Activation and Maintenance Since the system and Website share a database you don't have to duplicate work. Adjust your system and website to fit your changing needs at any time using your software's settings page and the websites administrative portal.

Ashley integration and Feed AUTO adds, AUTO discontinues, AUTO updates pricing, AUTO assigns categories, AUTO creates groups with both a group image and individual item images.

Product Catalogs Product added to your system is automatically added to your website with back end controls that allows you to choose to show all items, certain manufacturers, category, groups or even limit by availability. This decreases the time and cost of maintaining two systems.

Client Integration for both in store on kiosks and online Clients that buy in store can make payments and manage their account on the website. Clients who buy online can come into the store and make payments as well as manage their account with a staff member or from the kiosk.

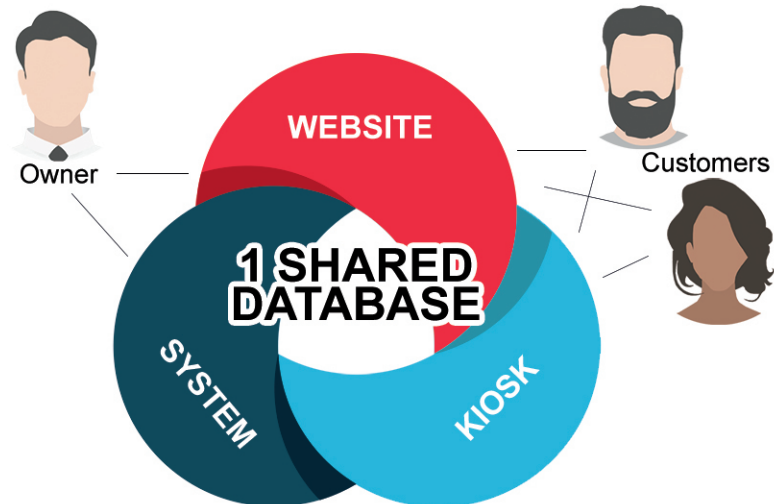

Real-time Product Availability Both the system and the website know what is in stock and available (not reserved) at the exact moment it is being viewed. Should your business choose to share that with the public this can also determine what is shown on the website.

Real-time Sales that feed straight to back office system Sales made on the website will show up in your businesses software system as they occur. They instantly reserve from your available inventory or place the order for the items you don't have in stock.

Real-Time Reporting The business owner can see how their brick and mortar store and website are doing at any given moment from any given device including their cell phone. Have the freedom to manage your business while you're at your kid's baseball game or vacation!

Buyer Account Management Area This area allows the buyer to make payments from the website or in store with a staff members assistance or on the kiosk (which is great when you have a minimal staff on a busy day). The can update their payment method for the auto charge on a layaway, and even update their preferred delivery date and time with the business's permission.

Retailer Administrative Portal This area allows you to set up different website managers, don't hire or wait for some tech guys to change your marketing, colors, tabs, specials, pricing and view website analytics. We provide you with an easy way to do it yourself.

Complete Seamless Integration and Automation of your in-store operating system and ecommerce website

Easy Marketing to Customers Reports of customers that shop but don't buy both in store and on the site will help you reach them again using the "Quoted but Not Sold" report to mass email, mass text, call and /or mass mail.

Social Media Integration Allows you to easily push out new deals on a daily basis and tie the deals right back to your website as a call to action. Not only will you reach the original viewer but the share with a friend feature helps to find new buyers

Full Circle, Automated Operational Processing When a sale is made in the software, kiosk or website, it automatically updates your accounting, ordering, receiving and delivering reports as well as all of your sales analytics directly in your software making it simple to manage both Brick and Mortar and Website sales from one central location.
